WICHITA, May 19, 1892. The cattle receipts were somewhat better today than the other days of the week, Butcher cattle is in good demand and huyers were anxious to get stuff today. There was a good steady market today and a good demand. Nearly everything on sale, changed hands. The market is low in Kansas City in consequence of the high water there. The quotations here presented are to give the shipperan idea of the general range of order. The various classes and grades sell within the limits of three quotations, according to the quality of offerings and the state of the daily markets. These quotations are only changed when there has been a jermanent change in the centeral market. The representative sales should be referred to to get the calls fluctuations.

The hog market opened steady this morning and a number of sales were made at steady prices with vesterday's close. At about 10 o'clock eastern markets reported a decline and buyers took off 5 cents on the rest of the day's sales. The fresh receipts today were 1550 head and everything on sale was quickly picked up by the packers who were both liberal buyers. There were a great many common hogs on the market, and the general average fell considerably below the quality of yester day's offerings.

NEW SPRING STYLES.

White Laces Again Fashionable—Ribbon Trimmings-A Graceful Tea Gown. There is a reaction in favor of white laces again, and one sees already on the import-ed gowns flounces and tabliers of white or am lace. Flanders lace, point de Venice. Chantilly, Malines, etc., are all called into active service in the making of gowns. The milliners are also using lace with unsparing hand on the spring bonnets. Point gaze, point d'Alencon, applique point and oriental laces, the last in wreath and ribbon designs, as well as the popular guipure and Genos laces, are all to be used They are in clear white as well as cream
